The Crossroads Initiative: A Ministry of Dr. Marcellino D'Ambrosio

For many years, Catholics wanting to engage in serious Bible study in order to arrive at a deep understanding of the Bible didn't have many good choices. They could enroll in an official degree program at a university or seminary. Not everyone, of course, is in a position to do that. Or they could get involved in a variety of dynamic Protestant Bible Studies.

But in recent years, some great Catholic Bible teachers have appeared on the scene, men and women who have engaged in the formal, academic study of Scripture, but who also can speak the everyday language of the man or woman in the pew and make the complexities of the Biblical Text understandable in a way that relates to real life. The result has been the development of some extraordinary tools for Catholic Biblical Studies.

Y Faith

Yfaith is an initiative of the Catholic Agency to Support Evangelisation (CASE).

It is a website designed for young people between the ages of ten and thirteen (an age group known as 'tweenagers'). It was created in response to the need of parents looking for support in passing on their faith to their children. Based on biblical teaching and the teachings of the Catholic Church, Yfaith aims to facilitate young peoples' faith exploration, and enhance their understanding and experience of the Catholic faith.
